Best Practice No. 2

1. Title of the Practice

Women Empowerment: Best Practices at Prabhu Jagatbandhu College

2. Objectives of the Practice

- Promote gender equality and inclusivity.
- Provide educational and professional development opportunities for women.
- Ensure a safe and supportive environment for all female members of the College.
- Prevent Violence and Discrimination against Women
- Fight for Freedom of Women
- Recognize Women's Right as a global struggle.

3. The Context

Prabhu Jagatbandhu College has a diverse student body, with women making up more than 50% of the total enrollment. Despite this, women have historically faced challenges in accessing the same opportunities as their male counterparts. Our women empowerment initiatives aim to bridge this gap and create a level playing field for all. The Women's cell of Prabhu Jagatbandhu College is a body comprised of female members from teaching and non-teaching community and female students of the college. The cell is named 'SACHETANI'. Implicit in the name, is the spirit of the cell, i.e., to generate consciousness about one's self, to breed self esteem and sense of worthiness in the mind of a woman—the weaker gender of the society.

4. The Practice

The Women's Cell, Prabhu Jagatbandhu college is prospering hard to uphold women's issues including awareness among the girl students relating to health and hygiene issues. The Women's Cell understands the importance of bringing awareness to all gynaecological problem. Early diagnosis of gynaecological problem with effective and common screening programs is very important in reducing mortality and morbidity rates. It is recommended to maintain healthy lifestyle behaviours, avoid risky behaviors, screen risky groups and ensure women's awareness for primary prevention. For this purpose, the Women's Cell is planning for an awareness workshop on women's health and hygiene. The cell is planning for a program in the presence of a specialist doctor so that all women of the college can discuss their intimate health problem with him/her and get benefited.

5. Evidence of Success

The Women's Cell, Prabhu Jagatbandhu college is thriving hard to uphold women's issues including awareness among the girl students relating to health and hygiene issues. This year also Women's Cell celebrated International Women's Day by organizing a day long programme in collaboration with IQAC of the college. It was celebrated on 7th March 2022. An awareness workshop on Women's health and hygiene was organized to commemorate the A rally was organized in the locality with the students of Prabhu Jagatbandhu College and students from 3 local schools viz. Gramya Hitakari Girls School, Mahiari Ranibala Kundu Choudhury Balika Vidyalaya and Jhorhat Fakir Chand Girls' High School. The total number of participants was 150. The objective was to spread hygiene awareness among women in the locality. A sanitary napkin vending machine was also installed in the college on that day. The objective was to provide needy girl students sanitary napkins at extremely affordable rates and to propagate hygiene consciousness among students. The day ended with a lecture by Dr. Anutosh Das, gynecologist and obstetrician, Ramkrishna Mission Seva Pratisthan on Women's health and hygiene.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

Initial resistance from some sections of the community, addressed through continuous dialogue and sensitization programs. Need for ongoing funding to support scholarships and new initiatives.

7. Notes (Optional)

The women empowerment initiatives at Prabhu Jagatbandhu College have made significant strides in creating an inclusive and supportive environment for women. We remain committed to advancing these efforts and exploring new ways to empower our female students and staff.
